

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALE – Rogers Industries Group.

These Conditions of Sale will apply to the supply of Goods and related services by the Supplier to the Customer from time to time.

1. Quotations and orders

- 1.1 All quotations are made and all orders for Goods are accepted by the Supplier on and subject to these Conditions of Sale and any special terms and conditions that are agreed to by the Supplier in writing.
- 1.2 The Supplier may withdraw, revoke or vary a written quotation at any time prior to the Customer submitting an order that accepts the written quotation. The Supplier reserves the right to accept or decline, in whole or in part, any order for Goods placed by a Customer.
- 1.3 The Customer acknowledges that it has checked all quotations and is satisfied that the quotations include all the Goods that the Customer requires and on which the Customer has requested to the Supplier to quote and that the Supplier will have no liability in respect of any omissions or errors in quotations in respect of the Goods on which the Customer has requested the Supplier to quote.
- 1.4 All Goods to be supplied by the Supplier are to be in accordance with the description in the quotation or order agreed by the Supplier and the Customer (as amended by agreement). That description will prevail over all other descriptions including any other specifications provided by the Customer.
- 1.5 The Customer acknowledges that the Supplier reserves the right to supply each order of Goods with a quantity tolerance that relates to the total quantity ordered of up to an additional 10%. The Customer agrees to take delivery of and pay the price for such additional Goods within that quantity tolerance.

2. Price

- 2.1 The price of the Goods will be according to the Supplier's current quotation for the Goods, or will be determined by the Supplier at the date of delivery of the Goods (whether notified to the Customer or not and regardless of any prices contained in the order). The Supplier will use its best endeavours to notify the Customer of price changes but bears no liability in this regard. This clause 2.1 is subject to any contrary agreement (if any) between the Supplier and the Customer regarding the price of the Goods.
- 2.2 Customer Provided Tooling: Quoted prices for new Goods and Services, where the Customer provides the relevant tooling, are indicative only and will be subject to a price appraisal as soon as an evaluation of the new Goods and Services is undertaken by the Supplier, to confirm that the relevant aspects supplied by the Customer to the Supplier to enable the new Goods and Services to be formulated (where relevant), is in fact correct. The Supplier, at its own discretion, reserves the right to refuse the order or adjust the pricing accordingly based on the findings of the Supplier at any stage and upon consultation with the Customer. Any modification to the order for the Goods must be approved in writing by the Supplier.

- 2.3 The price of the Goods specified by the Supplier in any quotation will remain valid for a period of 30 days for an order made by the Customer in accordance with the quotation price in 2.1, unless otherwise specified.
- 2.4 If a Customer wishes to cancel or modify an order, it may only do so in the manner specified from time to time by the Supplier. All requests to cancel or modify existing orders must be made in writing. The Customer acknowledges that the extent to which an order can be modified or cancelled, if at all, will depend on the type of product and the stage that the order has reached in the Supplier's ordering system.
- 2.5 Unless otherwise indicated, all prices for Goods are net, exclusive of applicable Taxes, charges and GST. Where Goods are subject to GST, the Customer must pay GST at the same time as payment for the Goods is made.
- 2.6 For the avoidance of doubt, no terms or conditions of the Customer, including any terms and conditions printed on or referred to in the Customer's offer to purchase or order will be binding on the Supplier or have any legal effect unless expressly agreed to in writing by the Supplier.

3. Part approvals (including material section)

- 3.1 Wherever possible, the Supplier will endeavour to supply a range of suitable materials for the Customer's appraisal. Should the suggested material not sufficiently meet the Customer's request, it is the sole responsibility of the Customer to highlight this issue and request that the Supplier obtains additional, more suitable, material options.
- 3.2 All product testing for fit, functionality and approval of the Goods' intended purpose, is the sole responsibility of the Customer. From time to time, the Supplier may offer advice, however this advice should be taken as general advice only, on the basis that the Supplier may not have formal knowledge of the Customer's specific industry standards. The Customer is responsible for ensuring all relevant industry standard testing standards and any industry body authority and/or requirements are met. The Supplier will not be held liable for any incorrect orders placed on this basis or if the Goods are not suitable for the intended purpose, if the Customer has provided the Supplier with an order inconsistent with any industry standard.

3.3 Upon written approval and master samples being issued, the Supplier bears no responsibility for any product failures of the Goods either in use or not. The Supplier is not responsible for ensuring that the Goods satisfy the requirements for its intended use. Should the Supplier, for any reason, not be able to consistently achieve the agreed guidelines through industry standard techniques, the Customer will be notified as soon as reasonably practicable.

4. Delivery

4.1 The Goods will be delivered at the Delivery Site, which may be the Supplier's premises, the Customer's premises or the premises of a third party nominated in writing by the Customer. If the Delivery Site is the Supplier's premises, the Customer must collect, or arrange for collection, of the Goods from those premises.

4.2 The Customer will ensure that the Customer (if an individual) or an authorised representative is available at the Delivery Site to sign the Delivery Docket, and by signing the Delivery Docket the Customer acknowledges that the quantity and other designated information outlined on the front of the Delivery Docket complies with the Customer's request. The actions or signatures of any person appearing to have the authority of the Customer on a Delivery Docket will bind the Customer.

4.3 If the Delivery Site is the Customer's premises or the premises of a third party nominated by the Customer, the Customer will be responsible for providing adequate and timely access to the Delivery Site and the Customer will indemnify the Supplier for all loss, damage or liability incurred by the Supplier as a result of failure to provide such access.

4.4 The Supplier reserves the right to charge the Customer a reasonable fee for storage of the Goods if the Customer does not provide delivery instructions to the Supplier within 14 days of a request for such instructions by the Supplier. The Supplier also reserves the right to charge the Customer any Costs that it incurs as a result of any delay by the Customer in unloading the Goods or where unloading of the Goods cannot be effected, including, if applicable, a return delivery fee at the prevailing freight rates.

4.5 Where the Supplier or its transport contractor enters the Customer's premises or the premises of a third party nominated by the Customer for the purpose of delivery of the Goods, the Customer:

- (a) releases the Supplier from any claim the Customer may at any time have had against the Supplier but for this release, in respect of damage occasioned to the Customer's premises or injury to persons arising out of the delivery by the Supplier or its transport contractor of Goods to such premises; and
- (b) indemnifies the Supplier against any loss, damage or liability suffered or incurred by the Supplier in respect of damage occasioned to the Customer's or the third party's premises or injury to persons arising out of the delivery by the Supplier or its transport contractor of Goods to such premises, except for and to the extent that such loss, damage or liability suffered or incurred by the Supplier arises out of the negligence or wilful misconduct of the Supplier or its transport contractor.

4.6 Any time or date for delivery or pick-up of the Goods provided by the Supplier is an estimate only and the Supplier is not liable for, and the Customer releases the Supplier from, any loss or damage, including Consequential Loss, to the Customer resulting from any delay in delivery.

5. Payment

5.1 Unless the Supplier grants credit to the Customer pursuant to a Commercial Credit Account and, subject to the Supplier's right to withdraw credit, payment for the Goods purchased from the Supplier must be made by the Customer in Australian dollars in immediately available funds prior to delivery of the Goods.

5.2 Where the Customer has a Commercial Credit Account with the Supplier, the Supplier will issue an invoice for payment (Supplier's Invoice) for all Goods supplied by the Supplier for the calendar month. The Customer must ensure that payment for the Goods is made by the Customer to the Supplier by no later than 30 days after the month in which the Goods are delivered or such other date for payment as the Supplier and the Customer agree in writing.

5.3 If there are any additional charges or surcharges incurred on delivery as provided by clause 4.4 (Additional Charges) the Customer is liable to pay these amounts. If the Customer has a Commercial Credit Account these Additional Charges will be added to the Supplier's invoice for payment. If the Customer does not hold a Commercial Credit Account and has paid for the Goods prior to the delivery of the Goods, the Customer must pay the Additional Charges in immediately available funds. If the Customer paid for the Goods prior to the delivery of the Goods by credit card, the Customer authorises payment of these Additional Charges by the Supplier crediting these Additional Charges to the Customer's nominated credit card.

- 5.4 The Supplier reserves the right at any time to determine that a Customer ceases to hold a Commercial Credit Account by notifying the Customer in writing and immediately upon notification the Customer will cease to hold a Commercial Credit Account.
- 5.5 The Supplier reserves the right to charge interest on any amount overdue for payment from the date it becomes due for payment until the date payment is received by the Supplier. The interest rate that is to apply is the overdraft rate charged by the Supplier's principal bankers. All amounts received by the Supplier will be credited first against the accrued interest.
- 5.6 A statement signed by the Supplier's authorised representative certifying the amount of any Additional Charges or other claim by the Supplier will, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding of the amount due for payment.
- 5.7 A failure to pay or the dishonouring of a cheque tendered by the Customer will constitute a breach of these Conditions of Sale.
- 5.8 Payments made by credit card may be subject to a surcharge.
- 5.9 The Customer must not withhold any payment under this contract or make a deduction from it for any reason, including because the Customer claims to have a set-off, counter-claim or any other right against the Supplier or any other person.

6. Risk

- 6.1 Without limiting clause 9, risk in the Goods passes to the Customer when the Goods leave the Supplier's premises, or as otherwise agreed in writing. The Customer must ensure that adequate insurance is taken out to insure the Goods against loss or damage from that time. The Supplier may request proof of insurance policies from time to time.
- 6.2 Without limiting clause 6.1, the Supplier is not liable for any loss or damage to Goods in transit. The Supplier will provide the Customer with reasonable assistance (other than incurring any costs) in respect of any claim by the Customer against a carrier of the Goods if the Customer notifies the Supplier and the carrier in writing immediately after loss or damage is discovered, and lodges a claim against the carrier within three days of the receipt of the Goods.

- 6.3 The unloading of the Goods at the Customer's premises or the premises of a third party nominated by the Customer is the Customer's responsibility at its own cost and risk, but the Supplier may, without liability to the Customer, unload the Goods at the Delivery Site if the Customer requests the Supplier to do so or is absent from the Delivery Site at the time the Supplier or its transport contractor wishes to unload. The Customer releases and discharges the Supplier and its transport contractor from and against any claim, cause of action or liability arising out of the unloading of Goods at the Delivery Site.

7. Force Majeure

If the Supplier is prevented either directly or indirectly from performing any of its obligations under these Conditions of Sale, including without limitation, making a delivery of the Goods or any part of the Goods by reason of Force Majeure, it will be entitled, at its option, by notice to the Customer, either to:

- (a) extend the time for delivery of the Goods for a reasonable period; or
- (b) subject to refunding the Customer for any payment already made to the Supplier in respect of those particular Goods (if any), terminate this contract, and the Customer will have no claim against the Supplier for damages or any other remedy for breach of contract.

8. Default by Customer

- 8.1 If:
- (a) there is any default or failure by the Customer in making due and punctual payment to the Supplier of any money owing by the Customer; or
 - (b) it is Insolvent; or
 - (c) there is a breach by the Customer of any of these Conditions of Sale;
- then:
- (d) all money payable by the Customer to the Supplier will at the Supplier's election become immediately due and payable; and

- (e) the Supplier may without prejudice to any other rights it may have, do any or all of the following:
- (i) suspend deliveries of further Goods to the Customer;
 - (ii) terminate the contract to supply Goods in relation to Goods that have not been delivered;
 - (iii) without limiting clause 4.4, withdraw any Commercial Credit Account that may have been extended to the Customer and require immediate payment of all money owing to the Supplier by the Customer;
 - (iv) seize, take possession of and sell or retain any Goods to which title has not passed to the Customer.

8.2 All Costs incurred by the Supplier relating to any action taken by the Supplier to recover money due from the Customer (including, without limitation, legal or other debt collection costs) will be payable by the Customer on demand.

9. Retention of title

9.1 The Customer agrees that the Supplier retains legal and equitable title in any Goods supplied to the Customer until the Supplier receives payment in full for or in connection with the supply of the relevant Goods. Until payment in full has been received, the provisions of this clause 9 will apply.

9.2 Despite title in the Goods remaining with the Supplier until payment has been received in full, the Customer may sell the Goods or use the Goods in a manufacturing process in the ordinary course of the Customer's business. The proceeds of sale of each item of Goods must be held by the Customer in a separate fund on trust for the Supplier and the Customer is under a duty to account to the Supplier for the proceeds. The creation of, or any failure of, any trust will not in any way limit the obligation of the Customer to pay an amount to the Supplier for the Goods supplied.

9.3 Until Goods are sold or used in a manufacturing process, the Customer must keep the Goods safe and free from deterioration, destruction, loss or harm, clearly identified as the property of the Supplier and keep full and complete records, firstly of the physical location of the Goods and, secondly, the ownership of the Goods by the Supplier.

9.4 If the Customer fails to pay the Supplier all money due under this contract by the due date, the Supplier has the right and irrevocable licence from the Customer, to at any time and without notice, by its representatives, enter the premises on which the Goods are located and repossess the Goods. The Supplier may keep the repossessed Goods, sell the repossessed Goods or hold them in safe custody pending payment of the outstanding money in full. The Supplier is also entitled to suspend any other delivery of Goods to the Customer without liability until any breach of this contract is rectified by the Customer. If the Supplier repossesses the Goods, the Customer remains bound by its obligations under this contract, including its obligation to pay the price for the Goods. The Supplier is not liable for any loss or damage, including Consequential Loss, suffered by the Customer as a result of exercising its rights under this clause 9.4. The Customer agrees that if the Supplier repossesses the Goods, the Supplier is not required to give notice in accordance with section 135 of the PPSA.

9.5 This reservation of title and ownership is effective whether or not the Goods become part of a product or mass through manufacturing, processing or becoming commingled and the Supplier's security interest continues in that product or mass to the extent permitted by law.

10. Application of the PPSA

10.1 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that the Supplier may apply to register a financing statement in respect of any security interest in the Goods at any time before or after delivery of the Goods. The Customer waives its rights under section 157 of the PPSA to receive notice of any verification of the registration.

10.2 The Supplier can apply amounts it receives from the Customer towards amounts owing to it in such order as the Supplier chooses.

10.3 If the Customer defaults in the performance of any obligation owed to the Supplier under these Conditions of Sale or any other agreement for the Supplier to supply Goods to the Customer, the Supplier may enforce its security interest in any Goods by exercising all or any of its rights under these Conditions of Sale or the PPSA. To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Customer and the Supplier agree that the following provisions of the PPSA do not apply to the enforcement by the Supplier of its security interest in the Goods: section 95, 96, 121(4), 125, 130, 132(3)(d), 132(4), 142 and 143.

10.4 The Customer must promptly do anything required by the Supplier to ensure that the Supplier's security interest is a perfected security interest and has priority over all other security interests in the Goods.

11. Liability regarding drawings

If the Customer supplies drawings, designs or other specifications for Goods to be manufactured by the Supplier, the Supplier will not be liable for any defects arising from those drawings, designs or specifications. If the drawings, designs or specifications do not specify materials or manufacturing methods then the Supplier may, to the extent permitted by law, utilise any materials or manufacturing methods it considers appropriate and which it believes satisfies the provisions of any relevant legislation or industry standard or code.

12. Liability generally

- 12.1 If the Goods are under any manufacturer's warranty applicable to the Goods, the Customer must comply with all applicable warranty terms. Failure to do so may void the warranty in full or in part. All applicable warranties for new Goods are available from the Supplier upon request. Any used Goods warranty will only apply if given in writing prior to sale (if any), otherwise the used Goods are sold 'as is' and without any manufacturer's warranty.
- 12.2 Any performance figures for the Goods given by the Supplier to the Customer are estimates only and subject to clause 12.3, the Supplier is not liable for any loss or damage, including Consequential Loss, if the Goods do not attain those performance figures.
- 12.3 All legal, statutory or equitable liability, conditions or warranties of any type in relation to the Goods or any services supplied under this contract are excluded. However, nothing in this contract will limit those provisions of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) including the Australian Consumer Law, nor statutes, rules or regulations from time to time in force in Australia that imply or guarantee certain conditions or warranties or impose obligations on the Supplier, which conditions, warranties and obligations cannot, or cannot except to a limited extent, be excluded, restricted or modified. If any such statutory provisions apply, then to the extent to which the Supplier is entitled to do so, its liability under those statutory provisions will be limited at its option to:
- (a) in the case of goods:
 - (i) the replacement of goods or the supply of equivalent goods; or
 - (ii) the payment of the cost of replacing the goods or of acquiring equivalent goods; or
 - (iii) the payment of the cost of having the goods repaired; or

- (iv) the repair of the goods; and
- (b) in the case of services:
 - (i) the supply of the services again; or
 - (ii) the payment of the cost of having the services supplied again.

The limitation in this clause does not apply to a breach of consumer guarantees relating to clear title, undisclosed securities and undisturbed possession under sections 51 to 53 of the Australian Consumer Law.

- 12.4 The Customer will keep the Supplier, its officers, agents, employees and other contractors indemnified against any loss, damage or liability arising directly or indirectly from a use of the Goods or any modification to them that is not in accordance with the manufacturer's, operator's or maintenance manual, authorised by manufacturer's recommendations, in accordance with any applicable law, or in accordance with good safety and operating practices relating to the Goods.
- 12.5 The Customer must, in connection with the supply of Goods, indemnify and keep indemnified the Supplier, its officers, agents, employees and other contractors (Indemnitees) against all claims, demands, losses, costs, liabilities and expenses arising out of:
- (a) injury to or death of any person (including Indemnitees) to the extent not caused by the Supplier; and
 - (b) damage to or destruction of any property (including that of Indemnitees) to the extent not caused by the Supplier.
- 12.6 To the maximum extent permitted by law and subject to clause 12.3, the Supplier will not be liable to the Customer, at law, equity, statute or otherwise for any Consequential Loss howsoever caused.
- 12.7 To the maximum extent permitted by law and subject to clause 12.3, the Supplier's cumulative liability to the Customer under or in connection with this contract, including any liability for breach of this contract, negligence or under any indemnity or law, will be limited to the amount paid by the Customer to the Supplier for the Goods.

13. Closing of account/return of Goods

- 13.1 Upon requesting closure of its account, the Customer acknowledges that they are required to finalise all current invoice amounts regardless of the due date. Further to any invoices for Goods or work carried out, the Customer also acknowledges that they are responsible for and required to purchase all stock holdings of goods, raw material, masterbatch (colour), or any other associated materials (Materials) required in the manufacture of their Goods. Only once this final transaction has been completed and transfer of all monies owing has been received, will the Materials and associated tooling be released to the Customer.

14. Miscellaneous

- 14.1 These Conditions of Sale set out the entire agreement between the parties in relation to their subject matter. Any other terms and conditions referred to in any purchase order form or similar document issued by the Customer are of no effect.
- 14.2 The laws applicable to the agreement between the Supplier and the Customer are the laws of Queensland and the Customer submits to the jurisdiction of the courts of Queensland.
- 14.3 Nothing in these Conditions of Sale will constitute the Supplier as a subcontractor of the Customer.
- 14.4 A party waives a right under these Conditions of Sale only if it does so in writing. Clause 12.5 applies to any waiver in writing. A party does not waive a right because it fails to exercise the right, delays exercising the right or only exercises part of the right. The exercise of a right does not prevent any further exercise of that right or of any other right. A waiver of any breach of a term of these Conditions of Sale does not operate as a waiver of another breach of the same term or any other term.

- 14.5 A provision of these Conditions of Sale or a Delivery Docket, or right created under it, may not be waived or varied except in writing signed by the party or parties to be bound. If there is a waiver or variation in writing it must be confirmed by the Supplier in writing, by a person authorised by the Supplier's management to make such variation or provide the waiver in writing and no other employee of the Supplier including a delivery driver under contract to the Supplier, nor any other person, will have any authority to waive or vary these Conditions of Sale or a Delivery Docket.
- 14.6 If a provision in these Conditions of Sale is wholly or partly invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, that provision or the part of it that is invalid or unenforceable must, to that extent, and in that jurisdiction, be treated as deleted from these Conditions of Sale. This does not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions in that jurisdiction, or of the deleted provision in any other jurisdiction.
- 14.7 The Supplier may assign or otherwise deal with the benefit of any contract made pursuant to these Conditions of Sale without the consent of the Customer. The Customer may not assign or otherwise deal with the benefit of any contract made pursuant to these Conditions of Sale.
